The University community consists of:

- 46,000 students,
- 3,000 research students,
- and 7,000 staff.

The UW is one of the largest employers in the Mazovian region; with respect to the number of employees, it is ahead of most corporations listed in the Forbes register of the largest firms in Poland.

The UW encompasses:

- 20 faculties
- and 29 research units.

The University’s scholars investigate over 3,300 research topics per year.

The University’s annual budget amounts to about one billion PLN.

Taking into account the total number of research universities that ranks at No. 3 among the 250 of the world’s best universities, the UW owns over 120 buildings and 770,000 m² of land.
THE HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY YEARS IN A NUTSHELL

The Very First

The University of Warsaw’s roots stretch back to the 13th century. They date back to the time when the city of Warsaw was probably founded in the 13th century. In 1596, Warsaw was the capital of Poland and was therefore a major centre for education and culture. The University of Warsaw was established in 1818, as a result of the Congress of Vienna, which took place in 1814-1815.

The University of Warsaw has played a significant role in the development of Polish society and culture. It has been a centre for the study of Polish history, literature, and language, and has produced many influential scholars and politicians.

The University of Warsaw’s role in the history of Poland is evident even in the name of the institution: those of the Law and Administration, Medicine, Philosophy, and Education.

The University of Warsaw, as the first institution to receive higher education in Poland, education to be considered the part of shaping the Polish nation.

The University of Warsaw was established in 1818, as a result of the Congress of Vienna, which took place in 1814-1815.

The University of Warsaw is not only the pride of the capital: it is also an important part of Polish education and culture. The University has a reputation for excellence in education and research, and is home to some of the best faculties in the country.

The University of Warsaw Library (BUW) has 3,500 visitors per day, which amounts to over seven other faculty libraries hold over 5.7 million volumes. The University Library is one of the largest in Eastern Europe.

The University of Warsaw is home to a number of institutions that contribute to the cultural and social life of the city, such as the Chopin Music University, the Academic Museum of Fine Arts, and the Warsaw University Library.

The University of Warsaw has a rich history and has contributed significantly to the development of Polish society and culture. It continues to be an important centre for education and research, and is a source of pride for the city of Warsaw and the country as a whole.